WHEELING, APRIL 5, 1889.

The fugitive Boulanger is not an inspiring spectacle for the hero-worshipers who have trooped at his heels.

PRESIDENT HARRISON doesn't like to be "holed" for an office on every occasion. He prefers sometimes to forget "the shop."

The Pittsburgh newspapers are at a loss to account for the prevalence of suicide in their vicinity. Maybe it's the filthy streets.

Mr. John O. Pendleton should be careful how he prescribes a witness too hard. The witness may be loaded, eh, Mr. Pendleton?

CHIEF OF POLICE DELBROG is doing some good work for a beginning. If he will keep it up he will make an honorable record for himself.

Our West Virginia patriots are still encamped round about Washington. The President might as well surrender while he can make terms.

That is all stuff about the Emperor of China having ten men to carry his umbrella. They are to keep the imperial wheel-shield from being stolen.

Is Bismarck so eager to know how much of a navy we have left, let him be told frankly that we haven't any. After that, if he be a man, he won't hit us.

MISS MARY ANDERSON "wishes" particularly understand that the attack of the St. Louis critics had nothing to do with her illness. When did St. Louis get critics?

It is probably untrue that Postmaster General Wainwright's friendship for the Chairman of the National Committee has become anti-Quay-let. But the gossip must have their gossip.

SOME of the Mugwump newspapers seem to think that Mr. Halstead had been confirmed or go down to his early grave a disappointed man. Mr. Halstead isn't that sort of man.

CHICAGO Republicans are much cut up over the defeat of their candidate for Mayor. They say it was done by stay-at-home Republicans. The Democrats had business out doors that day. They have a way of answering at roll call.

WHERE a Democrat holds an office from which a Republican was removed to make room for him, the said Democrat and his friends cannot complain if history now repeats itself in his case. Sauce for the goose should go well with the gander.

WHEN an Illinois Republican politician desires to show how badly his State has been treated by President Harrison he calls the long roll of applicants and tells how few have been called into the service. Perhaps Illinois would have done better if she had asked for less.

MARTIN'S FERRY has hit upon a good idea to exhibit and stimulate the native mechanical gifts of her public school children. Wheeling might profit by the example. The growing demand for the man and the woman who adds to book learning familiarity with a handicraft.

TWENTY strong cigars a day and an occasional pipe added to the strain of high dramatic endeavor, is a reasonable explanation of Edwin Booth's collapse. The admirers of the great actor will hope that it is not too late for him to mend his ways and recover his strength. The stage does not produce a Booth every day.

DIETHELM THOMAS B. LYMAN, of North Carolina, discovers that half a pint of freshly-roasted peanuts and a glass of sweet milk taken before retiring will give a night of refreshing sleep. The sleep-inducing effects of milk are beyond question. The peanut may add something to the milk, for Blahob Lyman says he has found the peanut by itself to work well with milk.

OKALOOSA'S P. TILGANS, a year ago the women of Okaloosa, Kansas, made a raid on the city government and captured it. Of course they had help from some of the men, who had become so disgusted with the town government of the place that they were ready to try anything for a change.

The petticoats of Okaloosa went to work with a will. They cleaned the town, put the sidewalks in good condition for the first time since they had been laid, looked well to the street lamps, and inspired the vagrant pigs with a wholesome respect for authority. Soon the men who had stood off to sneer came forward to praise.

This year the women have won again on the strength of their excellent record. Hurrah for Okaloosa's petticoats!

The devastating Prairie Fire, which has been hard indeed that is not melted by the recital of the terrible work of the prairie fire in Dakota and Minnesota. The imagination may try to picture the sweep of the fire on the open, unprotected prairie, the wind meanwhile blowing a hurricane; adventurous settlers fleeing in dismay from the spots where their industry had made them homes; the helpless ones expiring amid the destruction—the imagination may try, but it cannot produce that picture of unutterable woe.

One blow after another of drought, cyclone, blizzard, prairie fire, leaves the charm out of the great Northwest and should fill with satisfaction those who are comfortably settled where the conditions are more favorable to bread-winning and security for life and property.

Every West Virginian should be better pleased with his fortunate lot in a State which maintains a good steady average of productive farming.

BREAKFAST BUDGET.

The New York Coffee Exchange is putting up a $300,000 building on its ground.

In Baltimore 5,000 women and girls got the average weekly wages of $3 for making overalls.

Photograph parties are the rage in places where the modern instrument can be procured easily.

In the year 1887 Chicago district made more tons of steel than the whole of Western Pennsylvania.

In Boston natural history gardens are to be established in connection with the public park system.

It makes Cuba seem nearer to be told that it is only ninety miles from American soil to the walls of Havana.

A flock of about one thousand wild geese, bound north, alighted in Long Island sound, near Bridgeport, the other afternoon.

At New Haven, recently, Thomas J. Osborn wrote 103 words in a minute—breaking the record.

The German war office has published an authoritative history of Prussian fighting the battle of Jena. It comprises two handsome volumes of 1,000 pages each.

A New York policeman has been ordered to appear before the commissioners on a charge of dancing a can-can on the open streets while on duty.

A Kentucky hunter, while digging a rabbit out of a hole struck a keg of one hundred-year-old whiskey. The location of the find has been kept a secret.

M. Robin some time ago made a bequest to the French academy, and the latter has decided to accept it, founding an annual prize of 1,000 francs for "ill poetry."

A Pittsburgh swain invited his intended to a ball. She wore a low-necked dress, which so surprised and shocked him that soon afterward he wrote her a letter breaking the engagement.

Out here backwoods town in Indiana, last week, the sheriff left the court room for dinner, forgetting all about his prisoner, who afterwards leisurely walked off and has not since been captured.

Even Californians seem to tire of their perpetual sunshine. The Vivida Delia remarks: "Overlaid in the San Joaquin valley would like to swap off a few square leagues of Italian sky for a little Oregon mist."

A craze for taking flowers to school recently sprung up among children in Alabama, Ga., and finally resulted in much extra work for the janitors that an older excluding flowers from class rooms had to be issued.

The Knights of the Golden Eagle are holding their annual Grand Conclave in Harrisburg this morning, about 10,000 men in the showy regalia of the order enlivened the streets of that city during the parade yesterday.

A traveling man has dubbed the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad the Delny, Lidgey and W. railroad, because he can delay, linger and wait at any point on it and be sure of catching a train in a short time.

Three statues of the great goddess Cybele of Asia Minor, have been found near the seaport of Athens. They figure in a kind of niche, hold a lion on the lap, and have male and female figures on the columns to the right and left in relief.

Daughter of Oliver Wendell Holmes Dead. Boston, April 4.—Mrs. Turner Sargent, daughter of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes, who had been ill for nearly two months, died last evening at her father's home. Mrs. Sargent was a lady deeply interested in charitable work.

Cheese Straws. Mrs. Rorer, in April Table Talk. Mix two ounces of flour, three ounces of grated cheese, a half teaspoonful of salt, and a pinch of red pepper together. Beat the yolk of an egg with two table-spoonfuls of ice water, add this to the flour and cheese, work all into a smooth paste. Roll out on a board an eighth of an inch thick. Cut some of the paste into small rings, and the remainder into strips of one-eighth of an inch wide and five inches long, place both on greased sheets and bake in a very moderate oven till a light brown. Put the straws through the rings like a bundle of fagots.

Definition of an American Girl. New York World. The typical American girl is so thoroughly different from any other girl in the world that the best definition is to say she is American. She is as beautiful as a Hungarian, as gay as an Austrian, as artistic as an Italian, as fond of music and dance as a Spaniard, as much society as a French, as much fond of home-life as a German, and self-controlled as an English girl. She is the delight of her family at home when a little girl, a star in society when a young lady, and the typical wife when married.

Dr. Keewee. Sunday School Teacher.—Now, Bobby, tell me what Moses said when he stood on the mountain.

Bobby—"Nearer, my God, to Thee."

The late Dr. J. G. Holland, the eminent writer and physician, wrote and published in Scientific Magazine: "It is a fact that many of the best proprietary medicines of the last few years are made by men who are not physicians, and most of them are first discovered and used in actual medical practice. When, however, any student knows their value, and, forsooth, their popularity, secures and advertises them, then, in the opinion of the biggest, all virtue went out of them."

The late Dr. Dio Lewis, in speaking of Warner's Safe Cure, says: "If I found myself the victim of a serious kidney trouble, I would use your preparation." Dr. R. A. Gunn, M.D., author of "Gunn's New Improved Handbook of Hygiene and Domestic Medicine," says: "I am willing to acknowledge and commend thus frankly the value of Warner's Safe Cure."

The celebrated Dr. Thompson of the University of the city of New York, says: "More adults are carried off by chronic kidney disease than by any other one malady except consumption."

The picket fence is well posted, but the barb-wire one is the sharpest.

The World Ought to Know It. The world ought to know what S. S. has done for me in the cure of a malignant cancer, which was so bad as to be considered incurable by the physicians in Chicago, where I went to be treated. The hospital surgeons gave me up, saying they could do nothing for me. One of my neighbors sent me a copy of an advertisement out from a paper in regard to Swift's Specific, and I began taking it. I got relief from the first few doses; the poison was gradually forced out of my system, and I was soon cured and well. It is now ten months since I quit taking S. S. and I have had no sign of return of the disease.

MEN AND WOMEN OF NOTE.

Grosvenor, the English comedy actor, is to write a book on his travels, and something after the Mark Twain style is promised.

Ex-Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson has returned to his old home in Bloomington, Ill., and resumed his professional relations with his former law partner, James S. Ewing.

Laurence Oliphant's widow has started for Hadda, at the foot of Mount Carmel, where her husband lived close to the monastic colony for many years, and where she will write a history of his life.

Mr. C. H. Roe, of Louisville, a nephew of the late E. P. Roe, has written a novel that is soon to be published by a New York firm. Mr. Roe is a wood engraver whose work is well known in the West.

Marion D. Lytle, who is a step-nephew of the President and a real nephew of the author of "Uncle Remus," will shortly move to New York from his Western ranch. Lytle is a tall, brown and handsome young man.

Joan Patient Mazurke wrote his own will and died in Philadelphia in 1822. Dispute and litigation have followed ever since, the last point at issue being settled last week, after lawyers and court fees had swallowed up nearly the whole estate.

Rev. Fred D. Hale, pastor of a Baptist church in Louisville, has inaugurated a new fashion in collections. He announces before the services the amount he expects to gather in, and if the collection falls short he solemnly dismisses the congregation without sermon or benediction.

Colonel Joseph W. Corning, who has just been appointed postmaster at Palmyra, N. Y., is a notable postmaster at Palmyra, N. Y., by William H. Harrison. He led the charge at Williamsburg without waiting orders and was thanked for so doing by General Meade, who told him he had gained the day.

Defenses Can't be Cured by local applications, they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed, hearing is impaired, and if the inflammation is not removed, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is not a dangerous disease, but if neglected it will become an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the middle ear.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
